CLASS HISTORY

A few hours ago while reminiscing I pondered upon the years that have gone. My thoughts immediately went back to that fall day, twelve years ago, when twenty-eight, perfectly strange students entered Cridersville school. At that time those twelve years seemed so long, and now looking back over time, seem only to have been yesterday.

We entered the first grade with much eagerness, wondering what everything was about. Miss Ritchie, later Mrs. Reichelderfer, was our teacher. "My what a painful job she must have had!" That year passed quickly and most of us were ready for an advancement to the second grade. Now, what will this year bring?

The second grade proved to be loads of fun and each day brought new things. In fact a new teacher was in store for us. This was none other than Miss Headapole.

Entering the third grade was still better and we felt bigger and bigger. Miss Headapole was still our teacher and oh yes, we have a new classmate. Don Hall from Rising Sun, entered our class to help make it more cheerful.

During the fourth and fifth grade it was pretty much the same routine, a lot of fun, but more difficult of course. We have another teacher, Mr. Strausburg, who at times was rather frightening but never really harmful. In our fifth grade we came to our present school building and that gave us something else to be proud of.

The sixth grade was a little more difficult to understand but with Mrs. Wauben at our side to guide us over the rough spots we managed and quite well too.

Mr. Souders was in charge of the seventh grade and now we were really going places. We were on the second floor and after all isn't that what we had always dreamed of? But suddenly we were whizzed back on the first floor and our dreams were all shattered.

Well, we made it to the eighth grade with Miss Beagle as our instructor. Near the end of school was that wonderful day of graduation. Ah, in September we would be freshman.

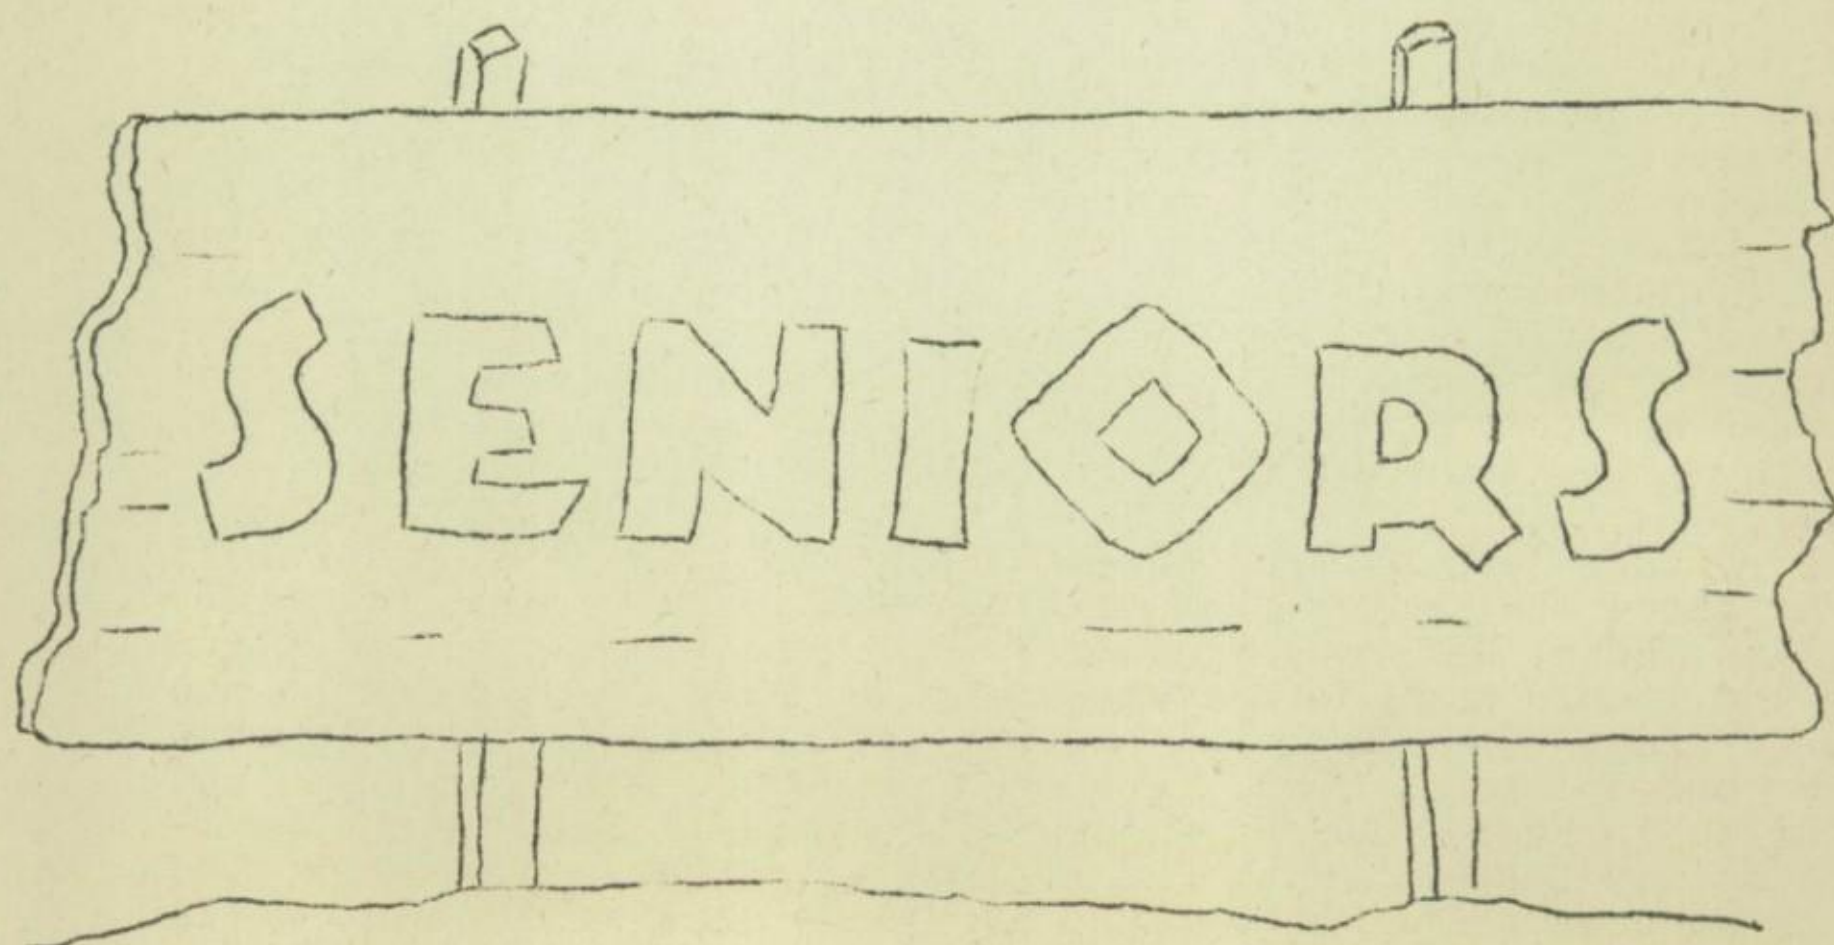

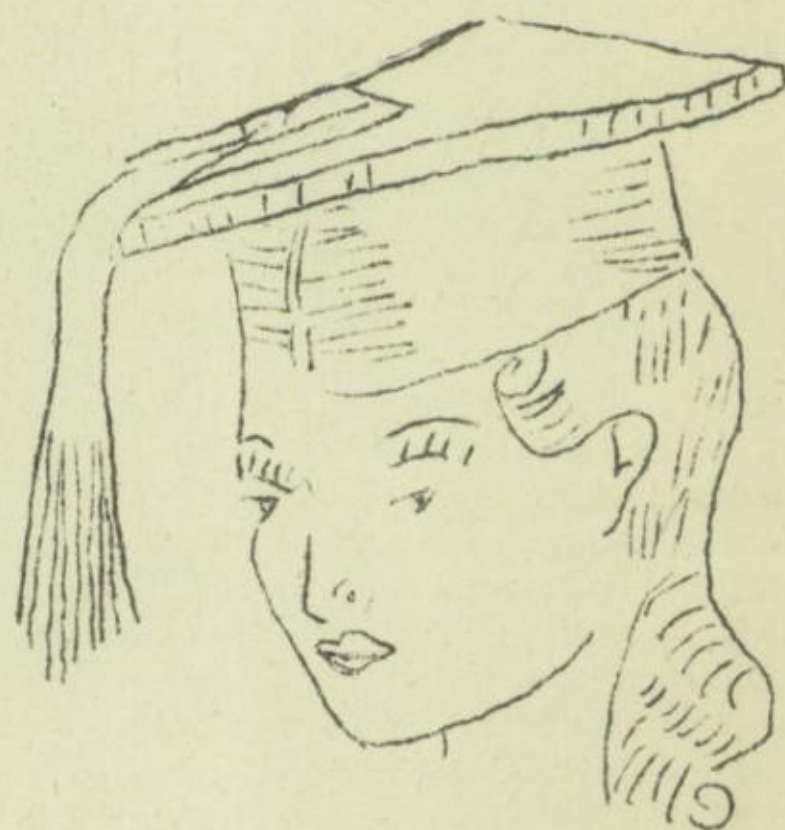

High school was so much fun, with the privilege of changing classes and a lot of different teachers. We certainly were adults now, we presented our first class play, "Bargains in Haircuts" and how can we overlook that Freshman Initiation. It was a mixture of everything, including fun and the fact that we were all quite frightened of those mighty seniors. We earned our place in high school after that punishment.

Our Sophomore year brought us another student from Central High School, Jeanne Harshe.

Entering our Junior year of school we were all thrills--just thinking of reception and various other events. This year brought us another new member, Maxine Werling from Blume High School. The class play presented was "The Chintz Cottage" and it was quite successful.

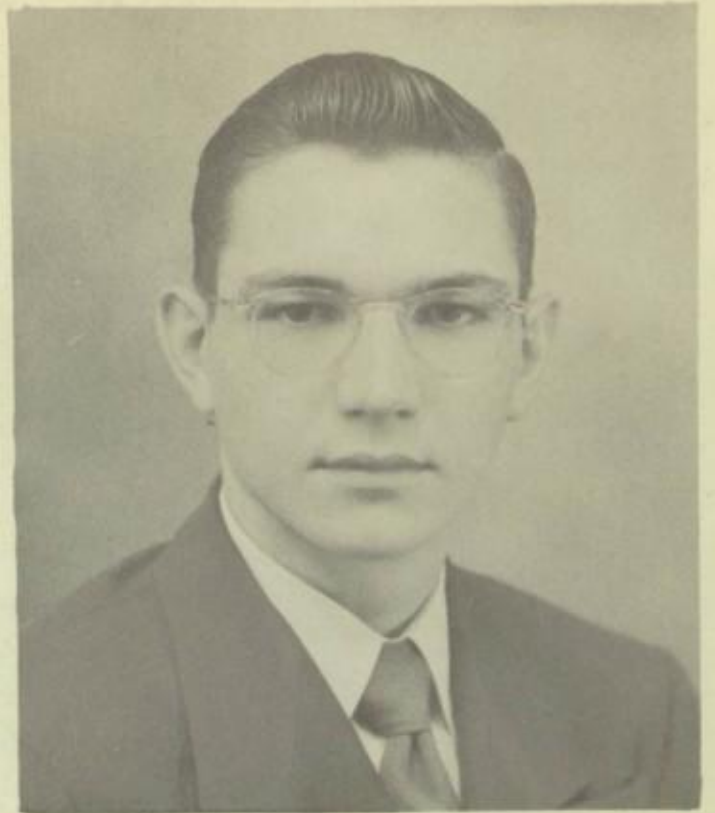

This brings us up to the present time 1947 when we are all seniors: those that entered school together: Bill Crouse, Bob Bieringer, Jim Long, Ned Mowery, Olin Young, Marjorie Fogt, and Betty Miller and those who joined us later, Don Hall, Jeanne Harshe and Maxine Werling. Of course we're looking forward to that day when we say good-bye to C. H. S. but each of us wonder what the new world holds in store for us and our classmates. This is the parting of the way for all of us and so in leaving we want to wish the best of success to those left at the good old school; also we'll be seeing you soon.

- PROPHECY -

TIME: May 19, 1952

Today, sitting here in my office in San Francisco waiting to type some letters for L. W. Vitter, my employer, I began reminiscing. Just five years ago today I graduated from Cridersville High School. I recall the good times and, of course, the trials and tribulations. Also, I wondered what had happened to my former classmates and what their activities were. I will relate to you just what I know of them now. BETTY MILLER and I have kept up pretty good correspondence with each other. She is private secretary to E. J. Kollin in New York City and is quite a prominent figure in the city. In a letter recently received from her she said that BILL CROUSE (I remember him as cute and curly headed) is a Lieutenant in the Air Corps. I remember, too, how in school five years ago, he was going to join the service as soon as he graduated and he must certainly enjoy the corps to stay in this long. Bill is now about 5 feet 9 inches tall and really handsome.

Br-r-r-ing. Can you imagine? As I was sitting reminiscing about my former classmates of the graduating class of '47, who should phone but MAXINE WURLING. She said she was in San Francisco buying articles for her large restaurant in Los Angeles and had just flown in on the 1:40 plane and remembered to look me up. I decided she would probably know about our former classmates so I asked her to join me at lunch. As we were eating, Maxine told me of her present interests and all about herself. As I remember, Maxine used to like the fellows pretty well and by the way she talked she still had quite a line of them. We had a nice chat and she said that from home she received the news that DON HALL had bought the neatest little farm. I remember how he always did like to farm! Naturally, he is not a bachelor and "Mike" (our nickname for Maxine) said that he has done very well for himself.

Maxine told me that MAXINE FOGT has acquired her teaching job (just what she wanted, I guess) at the old tramping grounds, Cridersville High School. Mike says she is getting along real well! I enjoyed greatly my visit with Maxine and she promised to write to me in the near future.

How time does fly!! It seems only yesterday that I saw JIM LONG go whizzing around the corner on his motorcycle and I do mean whizzing, too. Lately, I have heard Jim's name mentioned on the radio where he had been in motorcycle races in all the large cities: 'Frisco, New York, Chicago, and so on. In Chicago, he has his own shop where he sells, repairs, and does anything that's connected with motorcycles. He has, you might say, a girl in every "port", too.

As I glanced through the papers the other day, on the sports page I saw where OLIN YOUNG's (the boy with the haircut) horse had come in first in a horse race at the San Anita race track. I read on in the paper and it said that he had quite a few race horses, had won many races, and was doing very well. I recall now that back in school he did have a couple horses. I don't suppose that in high school he ever thought he'd make a career in this field. He has, however, achieved great success!

Goodness me! Who ever of us would have thought when we were in high school we would someday really achieve what we wished to do after our graduation in 1947.

While reading the sports section of the "California Gazette" last Sunday, I saw where Ohio State College was quite prominent in basketball this year and who should be named as one of the coaches but NED MOWERY. The paper gave a brief sketch of each of the coaches. Of Ned, it said he had gone to the same college and had been quite prominent in all the sports. I remember, too, that in school he had wanted to become a coach and his wish has been fulfilled.

Imagine the surprise I received the other day when I glanced at the newspaper and saw that my old Alma Mater had a ticket to Columbus for state championship in basketball. Since I had been given a few days off I decided to fly to Columbus and see the game. It was really exciting especially when who should come out with the team but an old classmate BOB DIERING who was coach of the Cridersville team. Cridersville was doing well in this final game and as always Bob was as happy as could be when the team was marked as the victor. His interest in high school sports had proved to be making success for his career.

Well, I guess that concludes my reminiscing of the good old days in school. It has only been five years but many things have happened in those years. They have been successful years and recalling all my schoolmates, they too have been successful. Perhaps one day in the near future we can all meet together and talk and recall all the good times had during our years at Cridersville High!
